

FIRE SAFETY TRAINING 2025

Our experienced trainers offer a range of courses to suit your requirements.

The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 states all staff should receive basic fire safety induction training and attend a refresher session at pre-determined intervals.

Our training courses are usually provided at your premises to minimise disruption and are designed to be friendly, interactive and engaging.

Courses can be planned in advance to coincide with the annual servicing of your extinguishers.

Available Fire Safety Training Courses

1. Extinguisher Demonstration
2. Hands-on Fire Safety Awareness Training
3. Fire Marshal Training

BS 9999:2017 Code of practice for fire safety in the design, management and use of buildings states:

"Fire safety training should be continuous, commencing with induction training on the first day of appointment of new staff and continuing in the form of regular refresher training by a competent person."
